

Best Road Trip Ever!

The Okanagan Valley is known for its dry, sunny climate, breathtaking landscapes, lakeshore communities, and award winning wineries. The lay of the land, along the scenic and historic Route 97, has lent itself perfectly to the "Ultimate Road Trip" for over 200 years!

Over that time, First Nation's people, fur traders, settlers, railway barons and tourists have all come to explore this amazing valley. Why not follow in the footsteps of those early travellers and see why everyone wants to try the ultimate Okanagan road trip.

The Longest Highway in North America Beckons

Route 97 is the longest Highway in North America, stretching more than 3,000 km from Northern California as far as Alaska. Along the way the most populous regions in Washington and British Columbia have joined together to promote this historic and scenic route. Whether you've got a few days or a few months, travel along Route 97 and take your time.

Welcome to Summerland's Bottleneck Drive

A beautiful, scenic route connects all of Summerland's Bottleneck Drive wineries and cideries. This meandering drive offers sweeping views of vineyards, orchards and Okanagan Lake with new discoveries around each corner.

Why Visit?

This meandering route gives you the chance to try 18 wineries and 2 cideries. These delicious wines and ciders are generally created right where you are trying them and not available anywhere else!
